What is the United Campus Ministry?

United Campus Ministry (UCM) in Aggieland is the campus ministry of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) and United Church of Christ. UCM seeks to be a Christ-centered, welcoming, ecumenical community. Since 1928, UCM has offered Christian fellowship and nurture at Texas A&M with opportunities available for spiritual growth and encouragement of students to discover and express their gifts and talents.

Tell me more!

UCM is an inclusive outreach to the Texas A&M University and Blinn College-Bryan campuses. We accomplish this through an ecumenical partnership of two reformed/revivalist denominations; the Presbyterian Church (USA), and the United Church of Christ.

We are reformed in that our supporting churches and our theological assumptions have their history in the reformed theology which evolved during the 16th century religious movement known as the Protestant Reformation. It emphasizes God's authorship over all of life and humanity's chief purpose as being to glorify and enjoy God forever.

We continue to be ecumenical in nature which means we take seriously Jesus' prayer, "that they may all be one." We believe that we learn more about what it means to be Christian by talking through our differences and seeking unity amidst those differences rather than dwelling upon or making light of them.

We strive to be inclusive as we welcome all persons into our fellowship. Seeking to follow Jesus' own example of welcoming the stranger, we believe that each person has an important role to play as part of this community of disciples openly seeking the Way of Christ together.
